

Skymap December-January 2019-20

Map shows sky at 10.00pm for December 1st but should be OK for most of the evening in December and January when it is dark enough!

Note that the map will drift westwards during the night and from one night to the next.

Hold the map with 'S' at the bottom when looking South and rotate with 'N' at the bottom when looking North etc.

